Who is Green Belt Certification for?

The Green Belt is defined by a strong knowledge of Six Sigma and Lean methods and project management training. Depending on your industry or organization, you will see Green Belts either leading simple projects or working as a team member on a large project team.

If your goal is to master this skill set and improve your value as an employee, then you should earn your Lean Six Sigma Green Belt.

Certification - the recognition that you have both studied and successfully practiced the application of process improvement - is a more formal step in the process. It takes longer to acquire certification than training alone, but once you have done so, you will have proof of your competence and abilities.

Certification Benefits

- Increase your personal skill set and value
- Have the opportunity for increased responsibility, recognition and earnings
- Can positively impact the health and efficiency of your organization

How Does MoreSteam Compare to Other Certifications?

We subscribe to the Green Belt certification standards established by the Center of Operational Excellence at the Fisher School of Business at The Ohio State University. As a result, MoreSteam certification is valued more highly by hiring managers and deployment leaders.

If you would like to compare MoreSteam's Green Belt certification to other popular programs, such as ASQ and Villanova University, visit our Green Belt comparison page.

What materials are included with certification?

To help you manage your project, you will receive access to TRACtion, our online project management and tracking tool. Once you have registered for and purchased certification, we will send you information on how to access and use TRACtion.

TRACtion guides you through the project process with critical questions, tollgate reviews, templates, links to training and more. Learn more about TRACtion.

Project support is provided by MoreSteam

Our instructors are available to assist you. For example, it's a good idea to submit your completed project charter for review before you get too far along in your project to make sure it's acceptable and scoped correctly. All MBB commentary will be captured inside of TRACtion.

We build software to help people make important things work better.

MoreSteam enables organizations of all sizes to advance their performance by delivering powerful, scalable online training and technology for enterprise process improvement.
